

Next morning Mad was promising something special, a full day to entertain us both. Its easier to just go over the highlights than describe everything in detail so here goes. Now then, lets see, I think we went to three, or was it four rock carving sites, then there was Glimminge Slot which was pretty cool. Then, between a couple of chambered tomb thingies we spotted a nice windmill before ending up at the Autoseum back in Simrishamn.

That was the highlight for me, coffee and cake. Seriously though it's a pretty nice motor museum where we spent a couple of hours before heading back to base. Of course, Mad has already told you about the tyre issues, so we had a long discussion about what to do after dinner then hit the beach again for a bit.
